Sunderland's Voluntary Sector Heritage Project Volunteer Opportunity: Podcast & Storytelling Team

Help Create a 10-Episode Podcast Series

Our sector is full of powerful stories – campaigns, crises, community action, and quiet acts of kindness. We're building a creative volunteer team to help produce a podcast that brings these stories to life.

What Podcast Volunteers Do

- Support podcast planning and story development
- Help record interviews and soundscapes
- Assist with editing and production
- Work with academics, storytellers, and community partners
- Share episodes across Sunderland and beyond

Who is it for?

Anyone interested in media, storytelling, digital creativity, or community heritage. No experience needed – training provided.

What You'll Get Out of It

- Skills in podcast production
- Experience with audio equipment and editing tools
- Creative collaboration with volunteers and students
- A role shaping a major heritage project

JOIN US

Help tell the story of Sunderland's voluntary sector in a fresh, creative way.
