Sunderland's Voluntary Sector Heritage Project Volunteer Opportunity: Oral History Team

Record the Stories That Should Never Be Lost

From the 1970s to today, volunteers, activists, and community leaders have transformed Sunderland – but many of their stories remain untold. We're training volunteers to help record these powerful memories before they disappear.

What Oral History Volunteers Do

- Learn how to conduct oral history interviews
- Work with Living History North East specialists
- Record conversations with founders, volunteers, and community champions
- Help preserve Sunderland's VCS heritage for future generations
- Contribute to exhibitions, podcasts, and the digital archive

Who is it for?

People who enjoy listening, learning, and helping others tell their story. Perfect for volunteers, students, retirees, and anyone passionate about heritage.

What You'll Get Out of It

- Oral history training
- Interviewing and recording skills
- Experience working with a regional archive
- A meaningful role in preserving Sunderland's social history
